

Thèse CIFRE

This is a unique job opportunity in France specifically for those students working towards a PhD (CIFRE) starting in March 2019 for a duration of 3 years.

You must have completed or nearly finished a Master's degree in electronic engineering, data analysis, computer science & related disciplines. You must be considering completing a PhD thesis.

The successful candidate must have the following skills :

- Programming/scripting
- Data analysis.
- Autonomous individual who can take initiative
- Excellent problem solving skills
- English Language skills is a must & French Language skills would be desired
- Microelectronics are appreciated but not required.